Re: ZTI, LLC

ZTI has been a one of our preferred Contractors for over 4 years now. They are a Contractor that has experience, honesty, integrity and bring full commitment to the project.

I am very impressed with the way the owner takes time to understand our products and in turn makes sure that his team uses the products correctly. His effort and attention to detail has led to the successful completion of many jobs. I am also very impressed with the professionalism and management abilities of their staff. They always promote team effort with all members of the project, including sub-contractors, engineers and consultants. ZTI has the ability to get the job done right and I would recommend their services to anyone.
